

His Royal Highness Prince Sultan bin Salman bin Abdul Aziz, President of SCTA, has pointed out that the safety and security enjoyed by the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is reflected in its domestic tourism and became a key factor in its success, and pointed out that security is a key pillar of tourism in various countries around the world.

The SCTA President was addressing the opening ceremony of the "Safety and Security of Tourism and Antiquities" forum, which was organized by the Naif Arab University for Security Sciences (NAUSS) in collaboration with SCTA on the University campus.

HRH President of SCTA in his speech commended the great efforts of NAUSS in the field of tourism security and its distinct cooperation with SCTA in addition to its efforts in the organization of this forum, which concerns safety and security of tourism and antiquities in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Consultez la source sur Veille info tourisme: Croissance du tourisme en Arabie Saoudite en raison principalement de la sécurité dans le royaume